Lightning played considerable havoc in the storm of last week. The old barn on the Shock farm was destroyed with its entire contents of hay. A valuable grade cow belonging to John House, and a highly prized heifer in the pasture adjoining the House property, but belonging to the Infirmary, were killed by lightning, presumably by the same stroke.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Malone attended the 23rd reunion of their relatives held recently at Tyro, and also the home-coming at Shiloh the same week.

Vance VanAstran and family motored to Akron Sunday to spend the day at the home of his brother, Ellsworth VanAstran and family.

The three-month contest in the Ladies' Adult class from which the "triumphant Kates" emerged victorious, created considerable interest and class spirit at the close and resulted in a record-breaking attendance at Sunday school on Sunday last. The contest was won by the uncomformably close margin of two points, the "defeated Marys" having scored a home run and an actual 44-point gain on the last day of the contest. Peace is not yet in sight, however, as it is rumored that the Ladies' Adult class are about to challenge the Men's Adult class, which will mean warfare to the finish if such a contest ever gets started.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Orr and daughter and Merle Lehman and friend from Wadsworth spent Sunday at the home of Ed. Lehman and family.

Ralph and Eugene Schlechty will go the last of the week to the home of their brother, Orville Schlechty of Plymouth for a week's visit.

Mr. Frank Goldner and wife had the great pleasure of meeting with the four other Goldner brothers at their family reunion held in Youngstown last Friday. These brothers have been widely scattered, one living in Arkansas and one in Michigan, and this was their first meeting together for a number of years.

Mr. S. J. Vanasdale is speculating for fair and has again purchased a farm near Lodi, that of 117 acres formerly owned by George Burr.

Ray Morton and Walter Shaw are among the State Fair visitors this week.

The Schleman family visited over Sunday with relatives in Berea and Cleveland.

MANY FOLKS PREFER MOONSHINE

Many folks prefer moonshine to common sense. Nearly every one would rather think that health was a simple matter of spooning something out of a bottle.

But if the cause of your disease is pressure of a disordered joint of your spine upon the nerves leading to the liver, what chance has a liver medicine to perform the mechanical movement of restoring alignment of the joint so as to lift the pressure off the liver nerve? Yet many folks prefer moonshine.

For common sense Health Methods try
